Cong Meet Ky Prediction Of Victory With Attacks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's troops tightened their hold on Hue today and sealed off the hospital room where the leader of the northern Buddhist revolt continued his antigovernment, anti-American fast for a 13th day.

While the rebellion led by militant monk Thich Tri Quang appeared to lose more ground, Ky's military regime pushed ahead toward promised civilian elections Sept. 11 on a wave of confidence voiced by Ky as he began his second year in office.

Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu signed a decree setting the election date and providing for a 106-seat constituent assembly to draft a constitution.

The decree also showed the junta's determination to remain in power well into 1967 by requiring a second round of voting for a national legislature three to six months after the generals approve the constitution.

American forces continued to shoulder the major fighting.

U.S. 101st Airborne Division units locked in a heavy fire fight with a Communist force of undetermined strength that attacked the paratroopers near Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon, this morning.

Helicopters brought in more American troops as the fighting continued into the afternoon.

U.S. Air Force B52s spearheaded the air war by returning to jungles northwest of Saigon to pound a suspected Viet Cong troop and headquarters area.

However, the Communists' "Liberation Radio," an objective of Sunday's B52 raid, was still heard broadcasting.

Off the Mekong Delta south of Saigon, U.S. Coast Guard cutters intercepted the second gun-running trawler of the month and the third this year. A boarding party seized a large store of ammunition and weapons, apparently bound for the Viet Cong, after the unidentified trawler was driven aground in flames.

Within hours of Ky's anniversary prediction of final victory over the Communists in the next year, Viet Cong guerrillas made two attacks in the northern provinces.

A suicide squad of about 50 guerrillas hurled itself against a U.S. Marine artillery position nine miles northwest of the Marine base at Chu Lai, 360 miles northeast of Saigon. A Marine spokesman said the Leathernecks beat off the Reds after three hours of fighting and found 14 enemy bodies in the barbed wire. U.S. casualties were reported light.

The Communists also attacked a militia headquarters on the outskirts of Hue, 400 miles northeast of Saigon, killed 11 defenders and blew up the building.

Passage Will Send Measure To President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to vote final congressional approval today of a bill that would strengthen the right of Americans to find out what their government is doing.

The measure, termed a freedom of information or "right to know" bill, would establish the basic policy that government records should be available to the public unless specific reasons exist for maintaining secrecy.

It comes before the House under a procedure that requires a two-thirds vote for approval, limits debate to 40 minutes and permits no amendments. Since the bill is in the same form passed by the Senate last year, House approval would send it to the White House.

Bipartisan Support
Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chief sponsor of the bill, said he knows of no opposition to the measure which enjoys broad bipartisan backing. Asked if he expected President Johnson to sign it, Moss said: "I do indeed."

There has been opposition to the measure within some government agencies. Neither the administration nor the House Democratic leadership has taken an official stand on it. The House Republican leadership has endorsed it.

The bill would permit persons denied information to seek a federal court injunction forcing its disclosure and place the burden of proof in such cases on the agency rather than on the individual.

Court Review
"I think that the provision for court review is by far the most important single thing in the bill," Moss told a reporter.

Existing information statutes are vague, and supporters of the new legislation claim present provisions intended to permit disclosure of information instead have been used to withhold it. The bill lists specific grounds on which information can be withheld.

The rest of the week's congressional calendar is somewhat sparse with action only on some minor bills scheduled in the Senate. House consideration of two important measures depends on approval early in the week by the Rules Committee.

Health Workers
The House bills are a three-year, $132-million program to train annually some 4,000 medical technologists and other health workers and a battered version of an administration proposal to overhaul unemployment compensation programs.

Committees have a busier schedule. The House Armed Services Committee opens hearings Wednesday on the draft, the Judiciary Committee takes up the administration's civil rights bill Tuesday and the Foreign Affairs Committee votes today on the $3.3-billion foreign aid authorization.

Auto Safety
Both Senate and House Commerce committees continue work on auto safety bills, with the Senate group expected to finish this week.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a National Security subcommittee hold separate hearings on U.S. relationships with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Witnesses include former White House aide McGeorge Bundy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

A Senate Labor subcommittee opens hearings on the House-passed minimum wage bill and another Labor subcommittee looks into the administration's request to extend the antipovertry program.

Griffin Speaker At Boys' State
EAST LANSING (AP) — U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told members of Wolverine Boys' State Sunday night that youth is the time of life to get involved in government.

Griffin gave the main address at the gathering of 1,256 high schoolers at Michigan State University.

"For any system to function, our citizens must get involved," he said. "The mark of success of our form of government is that so many desire to come in and so few wish to leave."

Polish Prelate Refuses To Be Cardinal Rival

OLISTYN, Poland (AP) — Archbishop Boleslaw Kominek Sunday night rejected the Polish Communist regime's attempt to build him up as a rival to Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland.

"Pope Paul VI and all the world appreciate and have confidence in the primate of Poland," Archbishop Kominek of Wroclaw told a crowded service at the Cathedral of Olsztyn, the former East Prussian city of Allenstein.

The archbishop said the Polish bishops are completely united on vital questions and that recent press charges that Cardinal Wyszyński is against an accord between church and state are false.

The newspaper Warsaw Life said in an editorial June 8 which all Polish newspapers reprinted that Cardinal Wyszyński "has demonstrated that he is incapable of bringing about a normalization of church-state relations."

The editorial suggested that the clergy should follow leaders who favor church-state coexistence and cited Archbishop Kominek as an example.

The archbishop said the cardinal and all the Polish bishops are united in favor of a "sincere dialogue" in an open-handed spirit leading to normalization of relations.

Cardinal Wyszyński said in a sermon Sunday at Frombork, on the Baltic Sea coast, that the church is offering an open hand of peace but must have its freedom.

FCC Head Urges TV Viewers Be More Selective

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newly designated chairman of the Federal Communications Commission has a tip for the nation's television viewers: be more selective in deciding what programs to watch.

"One should choose his programs like his reading material," said Rosel H. Hyde, 66, white-haired dean of federal regulators who was picked by President Johnson Saturday to head the agency that rides herd on broadcasters.

He described his own television habits as selective and recommended that his fellow viewers be judicious, too. "Just like I would recommend that anyone going to the library should not start to read everything that might be convenient."

Hyde acknowledged tuning in on "Batman" once and said he enjoys watching one Western, which he wouldn't name because "I don't want to plug it."

In his 20 years on the commission, Hyde frequently has been outnumbered by commissioners who favor tougher government regulation of broadcasting.

Hyde repeatedly has contended the government should nourish a favorable climate for improving broadcasting and avoid "the smothering and stifling effect over-regulation may have on initiative and creativity."

"I certainly oppose trying to regulate programming or to harass people into doing what I find might be suited to my taste," he said today in an interview, adding: "I do feel strongly the industry should show a sense of responsibility."

"We hope for improvement," Hyde said. "We're not satisfied it's as good as it can be." He disagreed, however, with former FCC Chairman Newton Minow's description of television as a "vast wasteland."

"It's not a loss. They are serving the public," he said of broadcasters.

Justice Potter Stewart said, "work a wholesale dislocation of the historic relationships between the state and federal courts in the administration of criminal law."

In the case in which Stewart spoke, the court by a 5-4 vote said 29 persons arrested on various local charges in 1964 in LeFlore County, Miss., cannot have their trials transferred from state to federal court.

Stewart said, "no federal law confers an absolute right on private citizens—on civil rights advocates, on Negroes, or on anybody else—to obstruct a public street, to contribute to the delinquency of a minor, to drive an automobile without a license, or to bite a policeman."

Further, Stewart said, no federal law confers immunity from state prosecution on such charges.

Justice William O. Douglas dissented in the Mississippi case, joined by Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William J. Brennan and Abe Fortas.

Douglas quoted from James Madison and Chief Justice John Marshall to support his argument that since the republic was established "the federal regime was designed...to afford some protection against local passions and prejudices by the important pretrial federal remedy of removal."

Joining in Stewart's opinion were Justices Hugo L. Black, Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan and Byron White.

Ed Wynn, 79, Dies Of Cancer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "During his last three months, he wouldn't let his three young granddaughters come to see him. His appearance had changed, and he couldn't talk. He wanted them to remember him as the roly-poly funnyman."

This was a son's remembrance of Ed Wynn, the great comedian-actor who died in his sleep Sunday at 79, a victim of cancer.

The son, actor Keenan Wynn, said his father had been in failing health for a year, although he remained active until a few months ago. Earlier this year, he appeared on Red Skelton's television show, made a candy commercial and played a role in Walt Disney's "The Gnomobile."

"In March dad went to Washington for the American Parkinson's Disease Association, his favorite charity," Keenan said. "He did 11 shows in two days. When he came home from that trip, he began to show the results of the cancer."

The elder Wynn had been operated on for a tumor in his neck, and the tumor was found to be malignant. He spent the last three months in his Wilshire Boulevard apartment. He was visited there Saturday night by Keenan and his wife and Keenan's sons, Tracy and Ned.

Nondenominational funeral services will be held Thursday at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. The body was cremated in accordance with Wynn's wishes. His will, written a month ago, left most of his estate to Keenan.

Supreme Court Limits Federal 'Rights' Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today civil rights prosecutions may be removed from state to federal courts only in limited circumstances.

To rule otherwise, Justice Potter Stewart said, would "work a wholesale dislocation of the historic relationships between the state and federal courts in the administration of criminal law."

In the case in which Stewart spoke, the court by a 5-4 vote said 29 persons arrested on various local charges in 1964 in LeFlore County, Miss., cannot have their trials transferred from state to federal court.

Stewart said, "no federal law confers an absolute right on private citizens—on civil rights advocates, on Negroes, or on anybody else—to obstruct a public street, to contribute to the delinquency of a minor, to drive an automobile without a license, or to bite a policeman."

Further, Stewart said, no federal law confers immunity from state prosecution on such charges.

Joining in Stewart's opinion were Justices Hugo L. Black, Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan and Byron White.

Ford Sees Big Gain For GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan said Sunday he expects this year's elections to give the Republican Party 40 more House seats, five to seven more Senate seats, and four to six more governorships.

If the GOP can score such gains, he said, it stands a good chance of defeating President Johnson in 1968.

During an appearance on ABC's "Issues and Answers," Ford was asked if he would decline the Republican vice presidential nomination in 1968. "I think so," he answered. He said he wasn't running for any executive office.

He said he expects the Viet Nam War to help the GOP this year unless some solution is found quickly. He said Americans don't want a long war and want to "either get in there and prevail...or get out."

If by November it still looks like Johnson's policy will mean a prolonged war, Ford said "the American people will take some action at the polls."

He said Democrats who backed Johnson in 1964 because they believed he was against escalation of the war are disillusioned and may stay away from the polls.

Republicans who voted for Johnson in 1964 will return to their own party this year, Ford predicted.

Nation's Crime Rate Up 6 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp increase in rape paced a 6 per cent increase in the nation's crime rate for the first quarter of this year over the corresponding quarter of 1965, the FBI reported today.

The number of reported rapes jumped 14 per cent with a 22 per cent rise in the north central states and an 18 per cent in cities of more than 25,000 persons. Suburbia continued to record the sharpest crime rate increase — 9 per cent. Rural crime rose 8 per cent and big city crime 4 per cent.

The violent crimes of murder (4 per cent), rape, robbery (4 per cent), and assault (9 per cent) increased an aggregate of 7 per cent, while the property crimes of burglary (4 per cent), larceny (11 per cent) and auto theft (5 per cent) rose an average of 6 per cent.

All geographic regions of the nation registered crime rate increases with the north central and Southern states leading the rest with 8 per cent rises.

The FBI figures were based on reports from 5,034 law enforcement agencies representing more than 143 million of the population.

Governor Romney at the Michigan Hospital Association meeting on Mackinac Island, June 16, inferred that the proposed Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine is unconstitutional, said Dr. Adler. The osteopathic college bill will come before the House of Representatives Tuesday. Romney said, "The Michigan Board of Education has the sole responsibility of higher education."

Dr. Adler said, "Governor Romney ignores the fact that the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine was granted a charter by the Michigan Board of Education in November, 1964. If we are to presume that only those charters granted by the present Michigan Board of Education are valid, then every pre-existing charter of every school of higher education in Michigan should be reviewed by them and certified. However, this is contrary to everything that is known about American legislation since no laws are allowed to be retroactive."

"Governor Romney misses the main issue involved here," Dr. Adler stated. "The State of Michigan and this country is faced with a growing shortage of physicians."

"This profession met its responsibility in planning for the construction of an osteopathic school for Michigan as far back as 1959-60."

Dr. Adler said, "several attempts by the osteopathic profession have been made to secure an audience with Governor Romney to present the osteopathic side of the story. These attempts to have an interview with Governor Romney concerning the proposed Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine have been unsuccessful. Several attempts also have been made to meet with the

The issue stressed by Romney was not whether the state needs more physicians — which is everywhere acknowledged — but whether it shall provide them by a process of orderly use of the state's educational agencies, headed by the State Board of Education, or whether the Legislature shall make a deal with state osteopaths to provide state aid for the college of osteopathy they propose to build at Pontiac, and for which the Legislature has already appropriated $50,000 in planning funds.

The issue in Tuesday's vote is creation of a State Osteopathic College Authority, which would commit the state to financing of the operation of the college. What's it like to have the shoe on the other foot?

Miss Kathleen Hogan, journalism teacher at Escanaba Area High School, is finding out as she experiences typical student frustrations while attending the Empire State Teachers Press Seminar at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y.

She is one of 23 teachers from 17 states who received a Wall Street Journal Newspaper Fund fellowship to attend the seminar. All advise student publications or teach journalism and have five years or less experience in this field. They will conclude their study June 24.

Admitting to frustration in her writing attempts, Miss Hogan comments, "The experience of receiving a red-inked paper sends one's heart plummeting. But then, who ever learns who does not make a mistake."

This is one of nine summer seminars for journalism teachers being financed by the Newspaper Fund, Inc.

Defense Funding Aid To Economy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The economic boom is rounding out its 64th month with little visible toll from either old age or stock market palsy.

Each time the unprecedented peacetime upswing shows signs of faltering, something comes along to feed it pep pills. A couple of years ago it was a federal income tax cut that did the trick when a slowdown had seemed likely. This time it is the infusion of stepped-up military spending that is beginning to circulate through the business stream.

Above all, it has been the inherent strength of the economy itself that has kept business expanding and consumers earning more and spending more.

Increased Defense Department spending is just beginning to take effect. There is often a long time lag between the congressional voting of extra funds and the payment for delivered goods.

Spreads Out But in between, the recipients of defense orders — whether it be for costly aircraft or lowly uniforms — begin stepping up orders for raw materials. Or they pass out subcontracts to other firms to help them fill the defense orders.

This defense spending in the months ahead is a main reason that most economists think the general business boom will survive the current perplexities, such as the drop in consumer buying of autos. They expect the economy to climb still higher in the fall.

All this also is why so many financial and business observers are taking calmly all the goings-on in the stock markets in recent weeks. They feel the market is acting less like a barometer of stormy weather ahead, and more like a correction of speculative fever that was getting out of hand early in the year.

Summer Slow-Down That there will be a slowing down in the pace of a number of industries this summer is taken for granted. The auto industry has its problems just now and the plants may close down earlier than usual for model changeovers. But always ebullient Detroit thinks the new models will give the final weeks of the year a big shove upward. Steel mills are feeling the drop in orders from their prize customer, the car maker. But defense spending, and the still healthy consumer demand for most appliances, now seem likely to give the mills more orders during the hot weather than

Dr. Lindquist Is Honored

Medicare Hope Is Doctors

Dr. Norman L. Lindquist, Escanaba eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, became president of the Upper Peninsula Medical Society at its Iron Mountain convention Saturday and planned next year's convention in Escanaba after a two-day convention highlighted by Medicare.

Medicare is the federal Social Security program which will provide hospital service for persons over 65 after July 1, and a program of doctor care for a $3 a month insurance fee, and, starting Jan. 1, an extended service care for the elderly in their homes and in nursing homes.

Dr. Lindquist was president-elect of the U.P. Medical Society and starts his term as president now. He has been a general medical practitioner and a specialist in the Upper Peninsula for 30 years. He was at Negaunee, then Manistique as a general practitioner and after specialization has practiced in Escanaba. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin College of Medicine, did postgraduate work at Milwaukee County General Hospital and specialty work at New York Polytechnic in 1948-49.

Dr. Lindquist has been president and secretary of the Delta-Schoolcraft Medical Society.

Governor Speaks
The Iron Mountain convention heard a distinguished group of speakers including Gov. George Romney, Dr. James Z. Appel, president of the American Medical Association and Dr. Luther Leader, president of the Michigan State Medical Society.

The strong accent in the meeting was on Medicare. The doctors of medicine were concerned with public understanding of their relationship to it, and most efficient implementation of it when it starts on July 1.

Philosophical Conflict
The physicians have a public image of opposition to Medicare, because of their collisions with politicians in the legislative period of its enactment, but now that it has come to the moment of truth, the system needs all their aid and their concerns about it have become public concerns. Questions like: "What do we do with the patient when the 90-days of covered care are up?" presented practical problems for the doctors. They are also concerned with an enormity of paper work that is in prospect, and with superimposing this care on top of a medical care establishment already fully used and, in some situations, creaking with overuse.

Gov. Romney said that the main reason for public impression of a running battle between government and the medical health doctors is Medicare. "Over a period of years the public has been witness to a major philosophical conflict. Like it or not, a major revolution is taking place."

"Government has a long-standing interest in medicine and public health that will not go away. In my four years as governor, Michigan appropriated for medical and health services approximately $700 million—the largest portion for mental health purposes. No one has shouted 'socialized medicine' as the public commitment to more and better mental health programs has grown annually."

Lack Trained People
"In addition we have seen a series of pioneering efforts to insure the maximum health of our citizens. These four years have seen another $80 million appropriated for public health purposes, much of it matched by federal funds."

"An obvious gap exists between the number of trained personnel needed and the number being provided. I regard the question of additional medical colleges to be a matter of such import as to require the most thorough decision-making process possible. The state constitution of Michigan, supported by the attorney general, has declared the responsibility of general coordination and planning of higher education to be that of the State Board of Education. I support this approach."

The Legislature is not supporting the Governor in this approach and is proposing to have the state bypass the State Board of Education and finance operation of a new osteopathic medicine college at Pontiac.

"In Medicare we do not know what lies ahead of us. It means expanded coverage and more people who will take advantage of our public programs. Medicare will be difficult to control by legal definitions and easier to control by finances and sound administrative practices. These are our objectives. The ultimate success or failure of these and many other programs will rest with you (doctors)."

UP GOES THE Midsummer Pole of the Gladstone Swedish Club in Van Cleave Park to remain there until fall as a salute to an 800-year-old custom in Sweden, which has sent so many persons to become American citizens. Midsummer Day American Style

Swedes Raise Pole In Park

On Midsummer's Day everyone should have a bit of Swedish in them, like they should have a bit of Irish on St. Patrick's Day.

In fact, unless they have some Swedish blood — it needn't be much — they can't become members of the Gladstone Swedish Club, which held its annual Midsummer Pole raising in Van Cleave Park at Gladstone at 4:40 p.m. on Saturday and followed with a gay smorgasbord and social evening at the Sherman Hotel in Escanaba.

The club, while designated as Gladstone's, has a Delta County-wide membership of persons with Svensk ancestry. Midsummer Day in Sweden is observed on June 24, but that was inconvenient for Delta Swedes, so, rather typically, they held their own Midsummer Day activities on June 18 with Ivan Dahlquist, of Escanaba, as general chairman. At the pole raising in the park Edward Olson, with pitch pipe and courage, led the singing of Swedish folk songs.

"We weren't all sure what the Swedish meant," confessed Lowell Sundstrom, the publicity chairman, "but we had song sheets and we all sang."

The Swedish Club borrowed its Midsummer Pole ceremony from that at Brevort. The pole symbolizes the Biblical story of creation. John the Baptist is at the top as a symbol of God's creation of man as his greatest achievement. There is a windmill at the top and four little ships to signify the seasons, and there are 6 crowns on the crossyards to denote the 6 days in which the world was created.

The pole will be left up in the park until Labor Day. The Sherman Hotel festivities included a review of the 35-year history of the Swedish Club by Walter Olson, Gladstone banker, and several soprano solos by Mrs. David Dahlquist and group singing and dancing.

Berman Elected

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Department of the Jewish War Veterans elected Jack Berman of Oak Park as commander Sunday at its annual convention in Detroit.

It was the third fatality in Delta County this year. Last year 10 persons died on Delta County roads.

Mrs. Bennett told investigating officers that the Gorzinski car came over the center line into her lane and that she started to swing into the left-hand lane to avoid an accident. She said that Mrs. Gorzinski then apparently realized she was on the wrong side of the highway and turned back.

Troopers said the collision occurred near the center of the road. Officers are continuing their investigation.

Mrs. Gorzinski reportedly had worked the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift at Pinecrest and was enroute to Escanaba to have a muffler repaired on her car.

She was born April 1, 1916, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hakes. Her father is a patient at Pinecrest.

Survivors include her husband, Joseph; two daughters, Sally, 24, and Carol, 20, and a son, Jack, 25.

The body was taken to the Kell-Tondin Chapel at Spalding. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Lynda Bird Johnson, George Hamilton

Lynda Bird, George Spend Quiet Weekend

KANAB, Utah (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson spent a quiet weekend with movie actor George Hamilton in this southern Utah community. At various times George and Lynda were seen wading in a stream, eating at a drive-in ice cream store, walking hand in hand and in one intimate moment, she was seen whispering in his ear.

Most people who saw the President's eldest daughter described her as gay and unpretentious, though she rejected most requests for pictures. A high spot of the weekend was a late dinner Sunday night. Lynda and George joined actor Glen Ford, actress Inger Stevens and friends about 9:45 p.m. in a motel restaurant.

Hamilton, Ford and Miss Stevens are on location for a Civil War film. Hamilton escorted Lynda to the camera site Saturday. Kanab is a community of some 1,300 residents near the Utah-Arizona border. For more than 30 years its surrounding multicolored hills have formed the backdrop for Western movies. Townfolk pay scant attention to celebrities. Lynda and George arrived in Kanab Saturday morning aboard a private jet plane. They traveled 30 miles into the depths of Zion National Park's sheer cliffs. George was dressed in a gray Confederate officer's uniform for his movie role.

After a box lunch Lynda watched while Hamilton shot some scenes. Later, the two waded in a small, meandering stream.

Celia L. Aalto Bride Of Leslie G. Viitala

ROCK — Miss Celia Louise Aalto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osmo Aalto of Rock, became the bride of Leslie Gerald Viitala, son of Mrs. Leslie Larson of Rock, in a double ring ceremony Saturday, June 18, at St. Joseph Church in Perkins.

Nuptial Mass was celebrated at 5 p.m. by the Rev. Fr. Edward Malloy. Bouquets of white gladioli decorated the church altars.

Organza, Taffeta

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of organza over peau taffeta. The bodice featured a scalloped sabrina neckline and long sleeves. A panel of re-embroidered lace extended from the neckline to the hemline of the floor length semi-controlled skirt. A double wattleau panel was attached to the back neckline forming a chapel train.

A headpiece of small satin roses sprinkled with pearls and crystals held her veil and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Maize Satin

Maid of honor was Miss Mary Menghini of Norway. Miss Cheryl Riemer of Chicago, Ill. and Mrs. Ralph Anderson were bridesmaids. Robert Chienal, cousin of the groom served as best man and groomsmen were Mike Aalto and Ralph Anderson.

The attendants wore maize satin gowns with white lace overlays. The floor length gowns featured empire waistlines and bell sleeves. Matching bows formed their headpieces. They carried yellow roses set in a cluster of white carnations.

Michelle Johnson, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and she was attired in yellow satin floor length gown with a white lace overskirt. A yellow bow and veil completed her attire. She carried a basket of yellow and white rose petals.

Mother's Attire
The bride's mother was attired in a blue suit and the mother of the groom wore a beige suit.

A reception and dance were held at the Finn Hall following the wedding. After a honeymoon in Canada, the newlyweds will be at home on June 27 in New Swanzy.

Patrow Studying Bethel Series At Madison

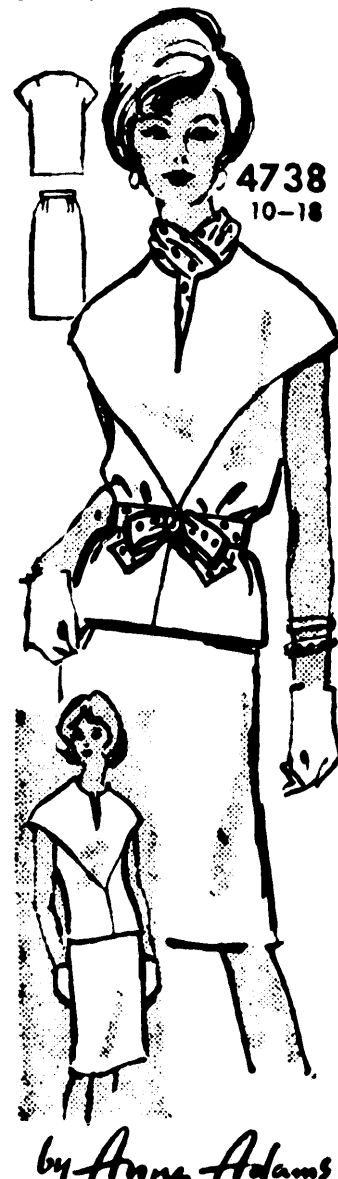

MADISON, Wis. — The Rev. Roger L. Patrow, of Immanuel Lutheran Church, is attending an intensive two-week orientation session conducted by the Adult Christian Education Foundation here.

Following the national clinic, Immanuel Lutheran Church will launch locally the use of the Bethel Series, an extensive adult Bible study program now being used by nearly 1,200 Christian churches throughout the country.

Pastor Patrow will begin immediately to enlist a corps of prospective lay teachers, committed to a two-year teacher training program, in preparation for the congregational use of the Bethel Series.

Designed and written by the Rev. Harley A. Swiggum of Madison, the Bethel Series accents basic Christian concepts of the Bible in a systematic study from Genesis to Revelation.

Old World Cherry Salad

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We know an excellent cook who used to live in Germany. She still remembers the cold cherry soup of her childhood, and the many meat sauces, desserts, relishes and salads, all made with bright cherries.

Now living in the State of Washington, she continues to enjoy cherries—dark Bings and Lamberts, and rosy, light Queen Annes—in old world recipes she continues to cherish.

Gabrielle's Cherry Salad

Serves 8
1 (1 lb.) can pitted dark sweet cherries
1 (1-lb.) can pitted light sweet cherries
1 large grapefruit

2 (3-oz.) packages cherry-flavored gelatin
2 cups hot apple juice
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
Dash salt

Drain cherries reserving syrup. Peel and section grapefruit, working over bowl to reserve juice. Combine cherry and grapefruit juices to measure 1 1/2 cups liquid. Dissolve gelatin in hot apple juice. Add ginger and salt, stir to blend. Stir in fruit juices and chill until slightly thickened. Set aside a few cherries for garnish. Add remaining fruit to thickened gelatin. Pour into 2-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on plate and garnish with dressing, cherries and mint leaves. As a dessert, serve either plain or with a soft custard sauce.

Police Planes Start June 27

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police will start sending up airplanes June 27 to find speeders and other traffic violators.

Three airplanes will patrol 20 sections of highway selected for their poor safety records, said Col. Fredrick Davids, State Police director.

The program should be in full swing over the July 4 weekend, he said, although the aerial spotting is planned as a long-range operation, not just as a holiday specialty.

The one-eighth mile sections of highway have been marked with painted white stripes on hard-surface shoulders or on the roadway itself.

The planes will carry a pilot and observer, both equipped with stopwatches, so two cars may be checked at once. Information on violators will be radioed to State Police cars.

While watching chiefly for speeders, the plane crews also will report improper passing, following too closely and other violations, he said.

The planes will be flown by Sgt. Norton Main at Lansing, Col. Chester Nottage at Traverse City and Leland Albright at Marquette.
